Opening Prayer & Welcome

Begin with prayer, thanking God that His wisdom far surpasses human understanding. Ask the Holy Spirit to help you see the cross not as foolishness but as the power and wisdom of God. Pray that God would strip away any pride or reliance on human wisdom and help you trust fully in the message of Christ crucified. Pray for those who think the gospel is too simple or foolish, that their eyes would be opened to see God's wisdom on display.

Introduction: A Divided Church Needs the Wisdom of the Cross

Key Definition: The wisdom of the cross is God's divine plan to save humanity through what appears foolish to the world—the death of His Son—thereby canceling human pride, confounding human wisdom, and conquering every obstacle that separates us from Him.

Scripture Foundation: "For the word of the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved, it is the power of God. For it is written, 'I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and the cleverness of the clever I will set aside.'" - 1 Corinthians 1:18-19

Understanding Corinth: A Church in Crisis

Before we dive into the text, we need to understand what was happening in Corinth. This wasn't a healthy, thriving church—it was a mess:

Problems in the Corinthian Church:

1. Division over leaders - "I am of Paul," "I am of Apollos," "I am of Cephas," "I am of Christ" (1 Cor. 1:12)
2. Taking each other to court - Christians suing Christians in pagan courts (1 Cor. 6)
3. Sexual immorality - Including incest being tolerated (1 Cor. 5)

4. Abusing the Lord's Supper - Getting drunk and excluding the poor (1 Cor. 11)
5. Marriage and divorce issues - Confusion about sexual purity and marriage (1 Cor. 7)
6. Idol meat controversies - Disputes about Christian freedom (1 Cor. 8-10)
7. Spiritual pride - Boasting in spiritual gifts (1 Cor. 12-14)

Cultural Context:

- Corinth was a Greek city that prized philosophical debate and rhetorical skill
- Greeks loved sophisticated arguments, eloquent speakers, and intellectual prowess
- Public speakers were celebrities; people followed their favorite orators
- The culture valued wisdom (sophia) and cleverness above all

Into this environment, Paul declares something radical: God's wisdom doesn't come through clever arguments—it comes through a crucified Christ.

Paul's Previous Lost Letter

Bro. Fred pointed out that 1 Corinthians is actually Paul's second letter to them. He wrote an earlier letter (now lost) addressing some of these issues. After hearing from Chloe's household about ongoing problems, Paul writes what we now call "1 Corinthians" to address the divisions and remind them of the core message: Christ crucified.

Questions:

1. How does knowing the problems in Corinth help us understand why Paul emphasizes the cross so strongly?
2. What similarities do you see between the Corinthian church and churches today?
3. Why do you think divisions over personalities and leaders are so common in church settings?

The Big Idea

The cross is God's wisdom that cancels human pride, confounds human wisdom, and conquers every obstacle. While the world searches for signs and sophisticated philosophy, God chose the foolishness of a crucified Messiah to save those who believe. This wisdom is available to everyone—regardless of education, culture, or social status—who puts their faith in Jesus Christ.

The cross isn't Plan B. It's not God scrambling to fix a problem. It's God's wisdom from before the foundation of the world—the exact right solution to humanity's sin problem.

Point #1: The Cross Cancels Human Pride

Key Scripture: 1 Corinthians 1:17

"For Christ did not send me to baptize, but to preach the gospel, not in cleverness of speech, so that the cross of Christ would not be made void."

Main Points:

- Paul's primary calling was to preach the gospel, not to baptize
- This doesn't mean baptism is unimportant—Paul baptized Crispus and Gaius and was thankful he did
- Paul's point: his job as an apostle was proclamation; others could assist with baptism
- The gospel must be preached plainly, not with clever speech that would empty the cross of its power
- When preaching becomes about the preacher's eloquence, the cross loses its centrality

Key Teaching:

"He says, 'For Christ did not send me to baptize, but to preach the gospel, not in cleverness of speech, so that the cross of Christ would not be made void.' It literally can be translated so that the cross of Christ would not lose its power."

"Paul is saying, 'Listen, let me show you how simple the gospel is. I preached it. You obeyed it. You were saved by it. And it didn't come with clever speech.'"

Clarifying Baptism's Role:

Bro. Fred took time to clarify Paul's statement "Christ did not send me to baptize." This has been twisted to suggest baptism isn't essential. But notice:

- Paul says he's thankful he baptized Crispus and Gaius (v. 14)
- If baptism weren't necessary, why would he be thankful he did it?
- Paul's point: As an apostle, his primary role was preaching; baptism could be administered by others
- This is about division of labor, not the importance of baptism

The Simple Gospel:

- Jesus lived, died, and was resurrected
- This historical reality has the power to save
- No clever arguments needed
- No philosophical proofs required
- Just the straightforward message of Christ crucified

The Danger of Clever Speech:

In Corinthian culture, people followed speakers who were the most eloquent, sophisticated, and philosophically impressive. Paul says, "If I preach that way, I'll make the cross powerless." Why?

- Because people will be impressed with the messenger instead of the message
- Because they'll think salvation requires human wisdom or intellect
- Because the cross itself will be overshadowed by human performance

Performance vs. Proclamation:

"When preaching becomes about performance, the power of the cross is obscured."

Bro. Fred gave the example of a preacher who flies down from the ceiling on wires during his sermon. That's theatrical, but it has nothing to do with Jesus. When preaching becomes a show, the cross gets lost.

Important Clarification: Paul isn't saying preachers shouldn't study or be educated. He's not anti-intellectual. He himself was highly educated. The issue is motive and method:

- Study to know God's Word accurately
- Communicate clearly so people can understand
- But don't rely on human eloquence to do what only the Spirit can do
- Don't make it about how impressive you are

Discussion Questions:

1. How can we tell the difference between clear, educated communication and "clever speech" that empties the cross?
2. Why do you think Paul emphasizes that he didn't come with "superiority of speech"?
3. In what ways does our culture today value style over substance, performance over truth?
4. How can we keep the cross central in our preaching, teaching, and conversations about faith?

Truth Bomb:

"You at least need to be able to put sentences together. You at least need to be able to read clearly so that it can make sense. But that's not what Paul is talking about. Paul is saying, I didn't come with some clever philosophical arguments. What I gave you is the historical Jesus—that he lived, he died, and he was resurrected. That's what I gave you."

Application:

Stop being impressed by flashy preaching or celebrity preachers. Focus on the message, not the messenger. And if you teach or share the gospel, keep it simple and Christ-centered. Don't try to impress people with your knowledge—point them to Jesus.

Point #2: The Cross Confounds Human Wisdom

Key Scripture: 1 Corinthians 1:18-21

"For the word of the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved, it is the power of God. For it is written, 'I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and the cleverness of the clever I will set aside.' Where is the wise man? Where is the scribe? Where is the debater of this age? Has not God made foolish the wisdom of the world?"

Main Points:

- The message of the cross divides humanity into two groups: those perishing and those being saved
- To those perishing, the cross is foolishness (moria—moronic)
- To those being saved, the cross is God's power
- God intentionally uses what seems foolish to destroy human wisdom
- The world's wisdom couldn't lead people to know God

Key Teaching:

"The cross also divides humanity. It separates the saved from those who are perishing. And it also divides who's thinking properly. Saved folk understand that the reason I am saved, the reason I am here is because of God's power."

"To the world or to people who are lost and perishing, they don't see the cross as logic. It doesn't make sense. How could a man come and die on a cross and then all of a sudden his blood is the thing that washes away my sin or saves?"

The Cross Divides:

The gospel creates a dividing line. On one side: those who see the cross as foolishness. On the other: those who see it as God's power. This isn't about intelligence or education—it's about spiritual perception.

Those Who Are Perishing:

- See the cross as illogical
- Can't accept that a crucified man could be the Savior
- Rely on human reasoning and logic
- Want something that makes sense to the natural mind

Those Being Saved:

- Recognize their need for a Savior
- Accept that God's ways are higher than human ways
- Trust God's wisdom even when it seems foolish to the world
- Experience the power of the cross personally

God's Wisdom vs. Human Logic:

Human logic says: "God could have come up with a better way to save people than having His Son crucified."

God's wisdom says: "This is the exact right way—it demonstrates My justice, My mercy, My love, and My power all at once."

Examples of God's "Illogical" Wisdom:

1. Nicodemus and New Birth (John 3) - "How can a man be born again? Does he enter his mother's womb a second time?" Human logic couldn't grasp spiritual rebirth.
2. The Bronze Serpent (Numbers 21) - Israelites were bitten by serpents as judgment for complaining about the manna God provided. God's solution? Look at a bronze serpent on a pole and be healed. That doesn't make medical sense, but it demonstrated faith.
3. God's Blessings Despite Our Circumstances - How does God keep providing when you can't make ends meet? How do you keep living when doctors said you should be dead? That's God's wisdom confounding human understanding.

The Foolishness That Saves:

"For since in the wisdom of God, the world through its wisdom did not come to know God, God was well pleased through the foolishness of the message preached to save those who believe." (1 Cor. 1:21)

Human wisdom—all the philosophy, all the intellectual pursuit—couldn't lead people to truly know God. So God used what the world considers foolish (a crucified Messiah) to save those who would believe.

Where Are the Wise?

Paul asks rhetorically: "Where is the wise man? Where is the scribe? Where is the debater of this age?"

In other words: All your philosophers, all your religious scholars, all your skilled debaters—where did they lead you? They couldn't solve the sin problem. They couldn't reconcile you to God. God made their wisdom look foolish by offering the cross.

Discussion Questions:

1. Why does the cross seem foolish to those who are perishing?
2. How has God's "foolish" wisdom proven wiser than human philosophy throughout history?
3. In what areas of your life are you tempted to rely on human logic instead of trusting God's wisdom?
4. How can we help others see that what seems foolish (the cross) is actually God's power?

Truth Bomb:

"It's moronic to shun the cross. It's moronic to deny the very blessings God gave you—to give you blessings that you and I did not deserve."

Application:

Stop trying to make the gospel "make sense" to the world on their terms. It will always seem foolish to those who are perishing. Instead, proclaim it boldly, trusting that God's foolishness is wiser than human wisdom. And examine your own life: are you trusting human logic or divine wisdom?

Point #3: The Cross Conquers Every Obstacle

Key Scripture: 1 Corinthians 1:22-25

"For indeed Jews ask for signs and Greeks search for wisdom, but we preach Christ crucified, to Jews a stumbling block and to Gentiles foolishness, but to those who are the called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God. Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men."

Main Points:

- Jews demanded miraculous signs to validate a message
- Greeks demanded sophisticated philosophy and wisdom
- Both groups missed the Savior because they were looking for the wrong things
- To those called by God, Christ is both power and wisdom
- God's "foolishness" is wiser than the wisest human
- God's "weakness" (the cross) is stronger than the strongest human effort

Key Teaching:

"Jews seek a sign and Greeks seek philosophy. And both of them missed the savior. There are some people who won't obey the gospel because they need something deep. Always need something deep. 'I just don't see that. Could you go a little further with this?' Man, it is as simple as putting faith in Jesus, repenting of your sins, and being baptized for the forgiveness of your sins."

Jews Sought Signs:

Throughout Jesus' earthly ministry, Jewish leaders constantly demanded signs:

- "Show us a sign that You have authority" (after cleansing the temple)
- "What sign do You show us as proof?" (John 2:18)
- Even after feeding 5,000 people, they said, "What sign do You perform?" (John 6:30)

The Problem: They had already seen countless signs. They witnessed miracles. But their hearts were hard. No amount of signs would convince them because they were looking for a political/military Messiah, not a suffering servant.

Greeks Sought Philosophy:

Greek culture valued:

- Sophisticated arguments
- Philosophical debates
- Intellectual prowess
- Rhetorical skill

The Problem: They wanted to intellectualize faith. They wanted salvation to be a matter of knowledge and wisdom. But you can't think your way into salvation—you must trust and obey.

Both Missed the Savior:

Jews stumbled over a crucified Messiah. Greeks thought a crucified Savior was foolishness. But to those who are called—regardless of ethnic or cultural background—Christ is both the power of God AND the wisdom of God.

God's "Weakness" is Stronger:

"Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men."

What looked like weakness—Jesus dying on a cross—was actually the greatest display of strength. What looked like defeat was actually victory.

1 Corinthians 15:54-57:

"But when this perishable will have put on the imperishable, and this mortal will have put on immortality, then will come about the saying that is written: 'Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting?' The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law; but thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

The Bee Illustration:

Bro. Fred shared a powerful illustration about a father and son driving when a bee flies into the car. The little boy panics, screaming that the bee will sting him. The father pulls over, grabs the bee, and after the boy calms down, opens his hand to show his son: "Look, I have the stinger. This bee can't hurt you anymore."

That's what Jesus did at the cross. He took the sting of sin and death into His own hand. Now, death has no power over those who are in Christ.

The Cross Overcomes:

1. Human Logic - What seemed illogical (a crucified Messiah) was God's perfect plan
2. Human Limits - What we couldn't do for ourselves, Jesus did for us
3. Human Lostness - The darkest sin, the ugliest shame—Jesus' blood covers it all
4. Death Itself - The resurrection proves death is defeated

Discussion Questions:

1. Why do you think both Jews and Greeks missed Jesus as the Messiah?
2. What are modern equivalents of "seeking signs" or "seeking philosophy" that keep people from accepting the gospel?
3. How does the resurrection prove that the cross was victory, not defeat?
4. What obstacles in your life need to be conquered by the power of the cross?

Truth Bomb:

"The cross breed conquers everything. It conquers every obstacle. It is just like the little boy... the dad says, 'Son, stop worrying. I got the stinger in my hand. And no longer will this bee be able to hurt you.' Can I tell you the cross overcomes every obstacle because Jesus has the sting of sin in his hand?"

Application:

Stop looking for signs or demanding sophisticated explanations. The gospel is simple: Jesus died for your sins and rose from the dead. That's God's wisdom and God's power. Trust it. Obey it. And watch God conquer every obstacle in your life.

Point #4: Staying Connected to God's Power and Wisdom

Key Scripture: 1 Corinthians 2:1-5

"And when I came to you, brethren, I did not come with superiority of speech or of wisdom, proclaiming to you the testimony of God. For I determined to know nothing among you except Jesus Christ, and Him crucified. I was with you in weakness and in fear and in much trembling, and my message and my preaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power, so that your faith would not rest on the wisdom of men, but on the power of God."

Main Points:

- Paul deliberately avoided relying on human eloquence
- His focus was singular: Jesus Christ and Him crucified
- He preached in weakness, fear, and trembling—not in confidence in his own ability
- The demonstration of the Spirit's power validated the message
- Our faith must rest on God's power, not human wisdom

Key Teaching:

"People value rhetoric and showmanship. But Paul valued redemption. And you've got to get to a point, Liberty City, where the only thing that matters to you most—and you love your family, you love people in your life—however, at the end of the day, the most pointed thing that should matter to you is redemption. Saving souls."

Paul's Approach:

Notice what Paul didn't do:

- He didn't dazzle them with philosophical arguments
- He didn't try to out-debate the Greek intellectuals
- He didn't rely on his credentials (though he had many)
- He didn't trust in his own speaking ability

Instead, he came in weakness, fear, and trembling, trusting only in the Spirit's power to validate the message.

The Priority: Redemption Over Rhetoric:

"God saved you. Then it should compel you and motivate you to share the same message that saved you so that you can save somebody else."

The cross isn't just something we celebrate—it's something we proclaim. We're obligated (as we learned in the first sermon) to share this message because it has the power to save.

Staying Connected:

Bro. Fred gave a powerful application: Christians can become disconnected from God's power.

Signs You've Been Disconnected:

- You've lost your passion for sharing the gospel
- You're living in unrepentant sin
- You've become worldly in your thinking and behavior
- You've lost the joy and power you once had

How to Reconnect:

1. Return to the cross—remember what Jesus saved you from
2. Confess your sins and repent
3. Get back into God's Word
4. Start sharing the gospel again
5. Submit to the Holy Spirit's leading

Discussion Questions:

1. How can we tell if we've become disconnected from God's power?
2. What's the difference between confidence in our own abilities and confidence in God's power?
3. Why is it important that our faith rest on God's power rather than human wisdom?
4. What practical steps can you take this week to reconnect or stay connected to God's power?

Truth Bomb:

"We live life as children of God. We come in here, we look the part and everything, and we've lost power. You've been disconnected. The world has a way of disconnecting us from God's power. And now is the time to reconnect."

Application:

Examine your spiritual life. Are you connected to God's power, or have you been running on your own strength? If you've been disconnected, today is the day to reconnect. Confess, repent, and return to the source of power—the cross of Jesus Christ.

Practical Application: Living in Light of the Cross

For the One Who Hasn't Obeyed the Gospel:

The wisdom of the cross means salvation is simpler than you think:

Here's what you need to do:

1. Believe that Jesus is the Son of God, who died for your sins and rose from the dead
2. Repent of your sins—turn away from them and turn toward God
3. Be baptized into Christ for the forgiveness of your sins (Acts 2:38)
4. Walk in newness of life empowered by the Holy Spirit

Don't wait for a sign. Don't demand deeper philosophical explanations. The gospel is simple, and it has the power to save you.

For the Christian Who Needs Refocusing:

Maybe you've made Christianity too complicated. Maybe you've gotten caught up in arguments, debates, and intellectual pursuits while losing sight of the simple message: Christ crucified.

Return to the core:

- Jesus lived a sinless life
- He died on the cross for your sins
- He was buried and rose again on the third day
- Through faith expressed in baptism, you're united with Him
- You're called to live for Him and share His message

For the Christian Who's Been Disconnected:

You once had power. You once had passion. But somewhere along the way, you got disconnected. The good news: God's power is still available.

How to reconnect:

1. Acknowledge the disconnection - Be honest about where you are spiritually
2. Confess your sins - 1 John 1:9 promises God will forgive and cleanse
3. Return to your first love - Remember what Jesus saved you from (Revelation 2:4-5)
4. Immerse yourself in God's Word - Let the wisdom of God fill your mind
5. Start sharing the gospel - Obligation leads to action

Three Action Steps for This Week:

1. Simplify Your Gospel Message

Practice sharing the gospel in 2-3 minutes. Focus on:

- Who Jesus is
- What He did (died, buried, raised)
- What we must do (believe, repent, be baptized)

2. Identify Areas of Pride or Human Wisdom

Ask yourself:

- Am I relying on my own understanding instead of trusting God?
- Have I made salvation or Christian living more complicated than it needs to be?
- Am I impressed with human eloquence more than the simple message of the cross?

3. Share the "Foolish" Gospel with Someone

Don't wait for the perfect moment or the perfect words. Simply share what Jesus did and invite them to respond. Trust that the gospel has power—you don't have to be clever or eloquent.

Group Discussion & Reflection

Discussion Questions:

1. How does understanding the cross as "God's wisdom" change the way you view the gospel message?
2. Why do you think our culture (like Greek culture) values sophisticated arguments over simple truth?
3. In what ways have you seen human pride or human wisdom keep people from accepting the gospel?
4. How can we keep the cross central in our teaching, preaching, and personal evangelism without adding unnecessary complications?
5. What does it look like practically to stay "connected" to the power of the cross daily?

Personal Reflection:

- Have you been guilty of making the gospel more complicated than it needs to be?
- Are you relying on God's wisdom or human wisdom in a specific area of your life right now?
- Who needs to hear the simple message of the cross from you this week?

- Have you been disconnected from God's power? What steps will you take to reconnect?

Closing Prayer

Father, thank You for the wisdom of the cross. Forgive us when we've made Your gospel more complicated than it needs to be. Forgive us when we've relied on human eloquence or our own understanding instead of trusting Your wisdom and power. Help us to see that what the world considers foolish—a crucified Messiah—is actually Your perfect plan to save humanity. Give us boldness to proclaim this simple, powerful message without shame or apology. For those here who haven't responded to the gospel, open their hearts to receive Your wisdom. For those who've been disconnected, draw them back to the power source. May we never take the cross for granted, but live every day in light of its wisdom and power. In Jesus' name, Amen.

"The Wisdom of the Cross"

The world calls it foolishness. God calls it wisdom. 🙏

This Sunday, Bro. Hall showed us from 1 Corinthians 1 that the cross is where God's wisdom is on full display. While the world searches for clever arguments and spectacular signs, God chose a crucified Messiah to save those who believe.

✨ The cross cancels human pride - It's not about eloquent preaching; it's about the power of Christ crucified
🧠 The cross confounds human wisdom - What seems foolish to the world is God's perfect plan
💪 The cross conquers every obstacle - Death, sin, shame—Jesus took the sting

"For the word of the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved, it is the power of God." - 1 Corinthians 1:18

Salvation is simpler than you think: Believe. Repent. Be baptized. Walk in newness of life.
